2 Winnipeggers killed in North Dakota crash

Heartbreaking losses. 33-year-old Karla Mackenzie pronounced dead at scene, while 3-year-old girl dies in Minneapolis hospital

Two Winnipeg families are heartbroken after a woman and her friend's little girl died after two collisions in North Dakota last week.

Friends said the two families were driving in North Dakota on Dec. 28 when the first family was rear-ended by a semi, but no one was hurt.

The father waited for a tow truck while his wife and three-year-old daughter climbed into the second family's SUV, joining the second family's little girl, also three, and her parents.

The father continued on to the hotel only to find the other vehicle had not arrived.

North Dakota state patrol said the SUV was rear-ended by another semi on I-29 near Drayton.

Karla Mackenzie, 33, was pronounced dead at the scene, while the two girls were airlifted to a Minneapolis hospital, said police. However, friends confirmed the second family's three-year-old died on Wednesday. Metro will not be releasing her name.

The deceased girl's mother was also taken to hospital, but is in stable condition. Mackenzie's daughter remains in critical but stable condition.

Conditions at the time were very poor, said police, with blowing snow and a no-travel advisory in effect. The SUV had either stopped or was travelling very slowly at the time of the crash, they added.

McPhillips Street

Man beaten, robbed in the city

Police are looking for three suspects after a man was beaten and robbed in the Burrows Central neighbourhood on New Year's Eve.

The 46-year-old victim told police he was walking near McPhillips Street and Magnus Avenue around 10:30 p.m. when three men ran up from behind and assaulted him. The suspects robbed the man of cash and personal property, police said.

The first suspect is aboriginal, 20 to 30 years old, with long dark hair. He was wearing a white jacket with a fur hood. The second suspect is aboriginal and 20 to 30 years of age. He was wearing jeans, a white hoodie and a black toque and gloves. The third suspect is white, 20 to 30 years of age with a medium build and brown hair. He was wearing a black jacket.

Anyone with information should call police at 204-986-2848 or Winnipeg CrimeStoppers at 204-786-TIPS. METRO

Girl dies after New Year's Eve crash

An 18-year-old woman hit by a truck in rural Manitoba on New Year's Eve has died. The woman was walking with a man and another woman on a roadway in Reinfeld around 11:30 p.m. when all three were hit by a 1997 Toyota Tacoma. The other victims were treated at hospital in Winkler, but the 18-year-old woman was taken to hospital in Winnipeg, where she later died. Carman RCMP continue to investigate. METRO

Impaired driving. Cops release checkstop counts

Winnipeg police were able to take a few more alleged impaired drivers off the road this holiday season compared to the same time last year, according to numbers released Thursday.

During the four-week Festive Season Checkstop campaign police stopped 4,106 vehicles and charged 55 people with driving impaired or refusing a breathalyzer, up from 42 last year.

But police also tested 246 drivers this year, more than twice as many as they did in 2012.

Forty-three drivers were given 24-hour suspensions this year, up from just 16 last year, and 141 other traffic related charges were laid during the latest campaign. METRO

Playing catch-up. Garbage collection to rock around the clock in Winnipeg

Winnipeggers are being told to leave their garbage and recycling carts out until they're picked up as the city sets collection into overdrive in an effort to get caught up with a schedule thwarted by winter weather.

The city said Thursday on average garbage and recycling service is about a half-day behind schedule across Winnipeg due to the effect of the frigid temperatures on equipment.

To get caught up, crews will be working 24 hours a day picking up recycling and garbage until Sunday. METRO

Portrait project done; 'Peg photog breathes

A shot a day. New Year's resolution turns into year-long project

David Lipnowski is taking a break from New Year's resolutions for the time being.

That's because the Winnipeg-based freelance photographer only just successfully completed his resolution from last year — he vowed to take a professional portrait of a different person every day of 2013 — and on New Year's Eve he posted the last of his 365 photographs to his website.

"I'm really proud and I'm really relieved," said Lipnowski Thursday, just the second day that saw him not having to pick up his camera and trudge out in search of a model. "It was really rewarding to connect with people and make portraits I was proud of, so I'll definitely miss that aspect of it."

What Lipnowski won't miss about the project he dubbed A Portrait a Day: 2013 is abiding by the one rule he set out for himself — that no matter what happened, he had to take a portrait every single day.

"Every day of the entire year I had to plan my day around finding a portrait subject," he explained, estimating he spent around 1,500 hours over the year on the work. "It was definitely tiring at times."

To make sure he got his daily shot Lipnowski lugged nearly 65 pounds of camera gear and studio lights with him and often approached complete strangers to see if they'd pose.

About 90 per cent of the shots were taken in Winnipeg, with a few coming from trips Lipnowski took over the year.

The portraits range from celebrities like Canadian astronaut Cmdr. Chris Hadfield to everyday Winnipeggers he'd meet on the street, and they can all be seen complete with a write-up about each subject at davidlipnowski.com/365.

After train fires, U.S. officials issue alert about Bakken oil

Flammability. Crude shipped from Bakken oil patch is potentially more volatile than the traditional variety

Following a string of explosive accidents, federal officials said Thursday that crude oil being shipped by rail from the Northern Plains across the U.S. and Canada may be more flammable than traditional forms of oil.

A safety alert issued by the U.S. Department of Transportation warns the public, emergency responders and shippers about the potential high volatility of the crude being shipped from the Bakken oil shale patch in Montana and North Dakota.

The warning comes after the massive explosion caused by an oil train derailment on Monday near Casselton, N.D. No one was hurt, but worries about toxic fumes prompted the evacuation of hundreds of residents.

The oil boom in the Bakken has reduced the nation's reliance on imported oil and brought thousands of jobs to the region. But as companies have increasingly relied on trains to get that oil to lucrative coastal markets, public safety in communities bisected by rail lines has become a major concern.

In July, 47 people were killed in Lac-Mégantic, Que., when a train carrying Bakken crude derailed. Another oil train derailed and exploded in Alabama in November, killing no one but releasing an estimated 749,000 gallons of oil from 26 tanker cars.

The amount of oil moved by rail has spiked since 2009, from just more than 10,000 tanker cars to a projected 400,000 cars in 2013.

THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Safety alert

Thursday's safety alert was partly due to results of preliminary tests on Bakken oil to determine just how dangerous it is, said Jeannie Shiffer with the U.S. Department of Transportation's Pipeline and Hazardous Materials Safety Administration.

Shiffer said it is important to know the volatility of the oil so that it can be properly handled during shipping.

The issue of volatility is of particular importance for emergency responders who have to deal with accidents like the one in Casselton, said Fred Millar, a rail safety consultant in Virginia.

Ford more years for Toronto's troubled yet defiant mayor?

Toronto Mayor Rob Ford officially shows his passport to a city clerk Thursday, as he registered as a candidate for the city's 2014 municipal election in October. Toronto's troubled yet defiant mayor isn't allowing months of scandal to stop him from entering what's likely to be the most watched municipal race in the city's history. Rob Ford was first in line at city hall to sign up for the Oct. 27 mayoral election when the nomination period opened Thursday. He expressed confidence that he'll win "Ford More Years" in the top job, despite admitting to using crack cocaine in a "drunken stupor" and making a crude sexual comment on live TV, among other cringe-worthy incidents that have garnered international attention and made him the butt of jokes on late-night shows. H1N1. Young parents embracing flu shot: Poll

Increasing numbers of adults in their child-rearing years are becoming convinced that getting a flu shot for themselves and their children is a good idea, a new poll suggests.

The Harris/Decima poll, done for The Canadian Press, found that those aged 18 to 34 and those with children in their households were the two demographics that had the highest rates of flu-shot converts than any other.

"What appears to be occurring is that over the years younger Canadians and parents are particularly becoming more convinced that they will do it (get a flu shot) in the coming year if they haven't done it very often in the past five," said Doug Anderson, senior vice-president for public affairs for the polling firm.

With this year's flu season shaping up to be an H1N1 year, that's a good thing.

Newly released data from researchers at the British Columbia Centre for Disease Control suggests children under five are the most vulnerable segment of the population when it comes to this family of flu viruses.

Those aged 18 to 34, and those with children in their households, are the leading flu shot converts.

COLIN MCCONNELL/TORSTAR NEWS SERVICE

Less than 20 per cent of children under age five have antibodies to H1N1 viruses. That's not really a surprise; they would have been born after the 2009 pandemic that brought the H1N1 virus into the mix of flu viruses that circulate during the Northern Hemisphere winter. THE CANADIAN PRESS

J.K. Rowling

Lawyer fined for spilling author's secret identity

A lawyer who let slip J.K. Rowling's secret thriller-writer identity has been fined 1,000 pounds ($1,645 US) for breaching client confidentiality rules.

Chris Gossage of London law firm Russells Solicitors — which represents Rowling — told a friend of his wife that the Harry Potter creator was author of The Cuckoo's Calling, published last year under the name Robert Galbraith. The friend tweeted the information, and it was followed up by the Sunday Times.

The law firm apologized and paid damages to Rowling for the leak.

Sales of the book rocketed after Rowling was outed as its author. THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Breaking Bad contest winner charged for drug op

Authorities say a Florida man who won a contest to watch the series finale of Breaking Bad with the cast has been charged with running a drug distribution operation.

The Lee County Sheriff's Office says Ryan Lee Carroll sold synthetic marijuana and shipped it across the U.S. from his home with two other men. He was arrested on New Year's Eve.

Authorities seized more than $1 million US in synthetic marijuana during a bust.

According to deputies, the suspects used a cement mixer to create the drugs. The drugs were shipped through the U.S. Postal Service.

Stafford slaying. Rafferty turned down for legal aid for appeal of conviction

Ontario's Ministry of the Attorney General will be picking up the tab for an appeal attempt by the man convicted of killing eight-year-old Victoria Stafford.

Michael Rafferty's lawyer says he has again been turned down for funding from Legal Aid Ontario after a judge ordered last month that it reconsider Rafferty's case.

Appeal Court Justice Marc Rosenberg had ruled the case is too complex for someone with a Grade 9 education in segregation and with no access to a law library to handle on his own.

Rafferty had been turned down four times by Legal Aid since his convictions in May 2012 for first-degree murder, sexual assault causing bodily harm and kidnapping in Tori's death. THE CANADIAN PRESS

Chopper swoops in to rescue ice-trapped ship passengers

Safe and sound. Three icebreakers failed at reaching ship trapped in the Antarctic since Christmas Eve

All 52 passengers trapped for more than a week on an ice-bound Russian research ship in the Antarctic were rescued Thursday when a Chinese helicopter swooped in and plucked them from the ice a dozen at a time.

The dramatic international rescue operation became possible once the weather finally cleared. Blinding snow, strong winds, fog and thick sea ice forced rescuers to turn back time and again.

The twin-rotor helicopter — its red and yellow colours contrasting starkly against the ice and snow — carried the scientists and tourists from the Russian ship MV Akademik Shokalskiy to an Australian icebreaker, according to the Australian Maritime Safety Authority's Rescue Coordination Centre, which oversaw the rescue.

At one point, the passengers linked arms and stomped out a landing site in the snow next to the Russian ship for the helicopter, which is based on a Chinese icebreaker.

The eagerly anticipated rescue came after days of failed attempts to reach the vessel, which was trapped since Christmas Eve.

The passengers were instead flown to an ice floe next to the Aurora and then taken by a small boat to the Australian ship, said expedition leader Chris Turney.

The icebreaker Aurora Australis will take the passengers to the Australian island state of Tasmania, a journey expected to last two weeks.

"I think everyone is relieved and excited to be going on to the Australian icebreaker and then home," said Turney. THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Rwanda's ex-spymaster found dead in Johannesburg

Rwanda's former spy chief, Patrick Karegeya, seen in an undated photo in Kigali, was found dead in a Johannesburg hotel Thursday. THE ASSOCIATED PRESS FILE

The body of Rwanda's former spy chief was found, possibly strangled, in a hotel in South Africa, police said Thursday. Rwandan dissidents accused President Paul Kagame of ordering his assassination.

The suspicious death of Patrick Karegeya, a former Kagame ally who turned against him, follows a pattern of assassinations ordered by the Rwandan president, said Theogene Rudasingwa of the opposition coalition Rwanda National Congress. Kagame's government vehemently denies it has targeted dissidents.

Karegeya's body was discovered in a room at Johannesburg's plush Michelangelo Towers hotel on New Year's Day, and many questions remain unanswered in a country with a high crime rate.

"He was found in the hotel room dead on the bed," said a statement from South African police spokeswoman Lt. Col. Katlego Mogale. "A towel with blood and a rope were found in the hotel room safe. There is a possibility that he might have been strangled." She said a murder investigation has been opened in the death of the 53-year-old who reportedly fled to South Africa in 2007.

Gunmen twice tried to kill Kagame's former chief of army staff, Lt. Gen. Kayumba Nyamwasa, while he was living in exile in Johannesburg in 2010. Nyamwasa told The Associated Press in 2012 that Kagame has hunted him and other dissidents around the world, "using hired killer squads." THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Undocumented immigrant gets law licence

The California Supreme Court granted a law licence on Thursday to a man living in the U.S. illegally who graduated law school and passed the state bar exam.

The decision allows Sergio Garcia to practise law despite his immigration status.

Garcia had challenged a 1996 federal law barring people living in the U.S. illegally from receiving professional licences.

He arrived in the U.S. illegally 20 years ago to pick almonds with his father and worked at a grocery store and in the fields while attending school. THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

NSA leaks

Newspapers call for clemency for Snowden

The New York Times and Guardian newspapers have called for clemency for Edward Snowden, saying that the espionage worker-turned-privacy advocate should be praised rather than punished.

The papers — both of which have played a role in publishing Snowden's intelligence trove — suggested late Wednesday that the former National Security Agency contractor's revelations about the United States' world-spanning espionage program were of such public importance that they outweighed any possible wrongdoing. Cairo links 'confession' to suicide bombing

Egyptian authorities produced on Thursday what they said was a confession by the son of a senior member of the Muslim Brotherhood, trying to bolster accusations that the Islamist group has links to al-Qaida-inspired militants.

In a news conference, the interior minister aired the recording, said to be of Yahia Mongi, son of a Brotherhood lawmaker, in which he says he joined a militant group that took responsibility for a suicide bombing of a provincial security headquarters last month, as well as other attacks. Transporter? Almost

MIT. Researchers have found a new way to render 3D images of people and things in remote locations

Researchers at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology have found a way to allow people in one place to interact with three-dimensional versions of people or objects in a different location.

MIT's Tangible Media Group calls the technology inFORM. A person in one location moves or puts an object in front of a depth-sensing camera. That camera sends signals to a motorized pin screen somewhere else and that's where the 3D image pops up. If someone on camera is moving his hands, for example, that movement would show up on the pin screen in another location.

THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

What for?

The researchers behind the technology hope it can eventually be used by urban planners and architects. It could also be used by doctors and others who need to look at CT scans.

MIT grad student Sean Follmer moves his hands in front of a depth-sensing camera which sends signals to another location that manipulates a ball. THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Marketing monopoly?

Wheat board suit moves ahead

The group Friends of the Canadian Wheat Board says it is moving ahead with a multibillion-dollar lawsuit against the federal government despite a court ruling in the fall.

The lawsuit is over legislation that removed the wheat board's marketing monopoly on western wheat and barley sales. Board supporters are seeking $17 billion in damages.

In November, a Federal Court justice struck down parts of the lawsuit that alleged expropriation and interference with economic relations.

Federal Agriculture Minister Gerry Ritz has said the ruling underscored the right of western Canadian farmers to market their own grain.

Stewart Wells, chairman of Friends of the Canadian Wheat Board, says the appeal will seek to have all the claims reinstated in the lawsuit.

"We are appealing (the) ruling to the extent that we want to, of course, go ahead with all of the class action we had launched before.

Snapchat to issue more secure app after breach

Snapchat says it plans to put out a more secure version of its application following a breach that allowed hackers to collect the usernames and phone numbers of some 4.6 million of its users.

The disappearing-message service popular with young people said in a blog post late Thursday that the updated version of its app would allow users to opt out of its "Find Friends" feature and would stem future attempts to abuse its service.

The breach occurred after security experts warned the company at least twice about a vulnerability in its system.

HERE'S LOOKING AT YOU, FUTURE

THE METRO LIST

Mike Benhaim
metronews.ca

Looking backward with pride and forward with hope? Probably not, but I have peered deep into my crystal ball, emerging with a clear vision of the coming year.

The good news is, 2014 will likely not be as crazy as its predecessor, but then again, if I am your go-to psychic, then you're screwed already. Here is what you can expect:

1 ____ is the new ____. Orange is the new black, 45 will be the new 30, cannabis will be the new tobacco, prescription A.D.D. meds will be the new crack, and all will serve as criteria for Toronto's new mayoral candidates.

2 Why so secretive? Edward Snowden will gain enough public support to be exonerated for his alleged crimes, but will continue to find his friends a little stand-offish.

3 Bad girls playing good. Lindsay Lohan makes a comeback, generating Oscar buzz for her portrayal of a young Mother Teresa.

4 Baby mama once more. Kim Kardashian will get pregnant again and give daddy Kanye West a son who shall be named Wild-Wild.

5 Totally beliebable scenario. Justin Bieber will pay German officials to retrieve his monkey, which will be trained to walk his new bulldog, pick up its poop and fling it at unattractive or overweight fans.

6 Bad girls going God. Miley Cyrus will make a spiritual pilgrimage to the Middle East, where she will consume the unknown fruit of a mysterious tree that will cause her to feel modesty and cover her nakedness with a fig leaf and a fragment of parchment. And army boots.

7 X-actly what we need. The X Factor U.S. judge Paulina Rubio will leave the show to judge The X Factor Mexico. She'll be replaced by Nicki Minaj for a win-win situation where Mexico gets a mentor whose insight can finally be understood, and the American version maintains the delicate balance of verbosely incoherent babbling.

8 Bynum, by then. Andrew Bynum, one of the NBA's most overpaid per-game players ever, will join the Miami Heat for the league minimum. Bynum's propensity for off-court shenanigans that lead to injury and his subsequent indifference will lead to his attempted strangling by team captain LeBron James during a nationally televised game. Bynum will sue for millions but will still manage to be bankrupt by 2015.

9 Hollywood K.O. 2013 brought the Knockout Game into public consciousness. It involves one person sucker-punching an unsuspecting victim while another films it for public consumption on YouTube. In 2014, the brutal pastime will spawn a new reality series where each week, a different Hollywood celebrity will be filmed sucker-punching Perez Hilton.

10 Sounds about right. Neither the Maple Leafs nor the Canadiens will earn a playoff berth in 2014. This may not be a revelation, but is more likely to come true than any of the above.

So, dear friends, remember to love like you've never been hurt and dance like no one's watching, but if you actually catch someone watching, put your clothes back on immediately. Happy new year!

Martians-to-be shortlist announced

COURTESY BRYAN VERSTEEG/MARS ONE

75 Canucks make list

Since he was a young boy, eagerly devouring science fiction books, Stephen Fenech has dreamed of being an astronaut.

Now, the Toronto man is a bit closer to reaching his lofty dream after learning that he is one of 75 Canadians selected as a candidate for a one-way mission to Mars.

"I'm vacillating between excitement and terror," said the 45-year-old seasoned traveller, who's visited 160 countries. "When I imagine myself not just in another country but on a whole other planet, I would be so jazzed about being there."

The mission is being organized by Mars One, a Dutch-based not-for-profit. On Monday it announced that of about 202,500 applicants worldwide, 1,058 hopefuls had been selected as potential candidates. They will be whittled down to a group of up to 40 people, who will then train for about seven years.

An unmanned mission is slated for 2018, with Lockheed Martin in charge of building the Mars lander.

Retirement years

"I know I'd be the guinea pig.... And I know I'm taking a chance.... But the way I see it is that my life will be winding down at that point anyway, so I might as well do something that's so fulfilling, not just to me but to our entire race."

Stephen Fenech, who figures that by the time the mission takes place he will be close to retirement, and ready for a new chapter.

$1.5 billion a head

The goal is for Mars One to send the first crew of four in 2024, with additional groups departing every two years. It's an ambitious — and costly — project. Getting the first group to Mars will cost $6 billion, with every additional manned mission costing $4 billion. To finance the endeavour, the private organization is relying on sponsors and public support. Just last month it launched a crowdfunding campaign. As well, there are ongoing negotiations with media companies for the rights to a reality-TV show that would track the training process.

Another iOS Kickstarter success story, République arrived on the App Store to much fanfare before Christmas. A hugely ambitious episodic stealth-action adventure, wrestled down to iOS size, it puts you in the role of Hope as she is held captive in a building run by an unpleasant totalitarian government. Needless to say, her captivity is short-lived.

Controls tend to be the biggest obstacle when it comes to shoving an action game onto an iOS device, but République nimbly clears that hurdle with a simple one-touch interface. Navigating Hope through each level begins and ends with a single touch wherever you want to place her. Of course, this being a stealth game, you're equipped with a tool that allows you to view your surroundings and their patrolling enemies by hacking into security cameras — once again with one-touch control.

The beautiful animation and convincing voice acting leaves little doubt that developer Camouflaj is hoping to force a huge evolution in touchscreen gaming, and the first instalment of République is a convincing case that they're onto something. (iOS/$4.99)

SCENE 2

Synopsis

Out with the old and in with the new: 2013 contained many magnificent movie moments (and some bad ones as well, but let's not dwell on those) for the Reel Guys and it looks like 2014 will be just as bountiful. This week we gaze into our cinematic crystal balls and choose the films we're looking forward to in the new year.

On tap for 2014: Another RoboCop reboot. CONTRIBUTED

Reel Guys

RICHARD CROUSE AND MARK BRESLIN

New year, new films

Lookahead. From The Equalizer to 50 Shades of Grey, the Reel Guys make their movie picks for 2014

Richard: Mark, years ago I loved a show called The Equalizer. It starred Edward Woodward as a private detective who helped people in need "equalize the odds." It was a cool show, and as much as movie versions of programs like The A-Team and Starsky and Hutch have disappointed, I'm looking forward to this. Denzel Washington is masterful at playing ambiguous antiheroes and reteaming him with his Training Day director Antoine Fuqua seems like a good idea to me.

Mark: Richard, I don't know the show but I do like Denzel, I do like Fuqua and I do like the concept. One movie I am looking forward to is The Monuments Men with George Clooney, Matt Damon and John Goodman as civilians pressed into battle during the Second World War to save art treasures from the Nazis. This should hit all the bases for me.

RC: Clooney is always cool, and he also directed the movie, so I'm keen to see it. I'm also very excited for The Zero Theorem. Terry Gilliam says his new film is the third part of the trilogy he began with Brazil and continued with 12 Monkeys. If that isn't enough, it stars Christoph Waltz and Matt Damon. And did I mention it sprung from the wild mind of Terry Gilliam?

MB: Reality check: Whose last movie was the unwatchable The Imaginarium of Doctor Parnassus. When Gilliam stinks he stinks up the whole room. Just saying.... If it's sci-fi you're looking for, how about the RoboCop reboot, a franchise that's had more reboots than an Ugg store? Or Transcendence, which has a Philip K. Dick meets Body Snatchers sound to it. Appeals to the paranoid side of my split personality Richard...

RC: I liked Parnassus! It was like a Salvador Dali painting come to life! Gilliam Rules! But there are other things I'm looking forward to, like Maleficent. The creepy but beautiful Sleeping Beauty villain is a role Angelina Jolie's cheekbones were born to play. If the movie is as cool looking as the clips I've seen, I'll go for the art direction alone.

MB: Sure, but I think we're both ignoring what must be the Greatest Movie of 2014 — the cinematic adaptation of the great novel Fifty Shades of Grey. C'mon, Richard, admit it, you'll be second in line to see it, only because I got there the night before... and I understand James Franco is playing the handcuffs.

3 songs for the weekend

SOUND CHECK
Alan Cross
scene@metronews.ca

Here are some early samples from three important albums coming up in the next month.

Holding on for Life/Broken Bells

The collaboration between Danger Mouse and James Mercer of The Shins moves to stage two with a second album entitled After the Disco on Jan. 14.

Black Me Out / Against Me

In what could be the most intensely autobiographical album ever, Against Me! returns with Transgender Dysmorphia Blues, featuring Laura Jane Grace, the reborn identity of singer Tom Gabel. It's out Jan. 21.

Big Shot/ The Pack A.D

Promotion for their fourth album began in the fall and teased with a couple of tracks. Do Not Engage finally lands Jan. 28.

The future of your favourite pop stars

Music. We look into the crystal ball and predict where some of the big names will be in two years' time

Miley Cyrus GETTY IMAGES

Miley Cyrus

2014: Her Bangerz tour continues throughout the U.S. and Canada before heading to Europe. We predict she'll play it safe on these dates to ensure Wisconsin parents keep giving her money.
2015: Tour over, Miley spends an entire year Instagramming photos of pot leaves in Jamaica, where, in the spirit of twerking, she adopts a cute little black boy and makes him dance.
2016: Now 24, Cyrus does what all female singers do, and "matures," lining up 20 dates in Vegas and a comeback tour.

Rihanna

2014: Basically the same thing as Miley.
2015: Except Trinidad instead of Jamaica. And instead of adopting a little boy, she marries Chris Brown.
2016: Rihanna and Chris become the next Ike and Tina, and then she finally dumps his ass.

One Direction

2014: OMG indeed: The U.K. phenoms tour Europe, sell out stadiums and break box office records. Harry Styles denies rumours about going solo, staying true to his "boys."
2015: Harry Styles goes solo.
2016: The One Direction Reunion Tour hits Europe. Sales figures are "unavailable."

Kanye and Kim

2014: Now a year old, their daughter North releases her first album, produced by Hudson Mohawke on an old TurboGrafx.
2015: North, now two, calls her parents sell-outs and proclaims herself the Messiah.
2016: North was right: she is the Messiah. We all die horrifically in the Rapture.

OUR TAKE ON THE WORLD OF CELEBRITIES

The Word

The sky's the limit for LaBeouf's mea culpa

Shia LaBeouf may have finally managed to write an apology for plagiarism that is not, itself, plagiarized.

The Beef came under fire recently when it came to light that his short film Howard-Cantour.com bore similarities to Daniel Clowes's comic Justin M. Damiano. The actor has since apologized several times, but since his apologies themselves seemed cobbled together from other works, it was hard to believe he was taking his transgression seriously.

Well, now at least he's working on it. Early this Thursday morning, Shia tweeted a pic of the words "I am sorry Daniel Clowes" in skywriting.

He didn't just photoshop that skywriting either. According to Variety, LaBeouf's contrition was visible across the L.A. sky on Wednesday.

"Mr. Clowes, I can only ask that you view my apology as a stepping stone toward repairing this misunderstanding between us. I'm sorry," he tweeted on New Year's Eve. All this may or may not come as any comfort to Mr. Clowes, who lives in San Francisco, not L.A. MELINDA TAUB/METRO

Top celeb travel moments of 2013

A monster-infested lake in Scotland, a picturesque seaside town in Italy and a celebrated party island in Spain were featured on travelocity.ca's list of the top celebrity travel moments of the past year — a list compiled from the results of a national survey. Whose beach trips, brawls and destination weddings came up tops? Read on to find out. TEXT: METRO, TRAVEL PHOTOS: ISTOCK, CELEB PHOTOS: GETTY IMAGES

Canadian men chose Charlie Sheen's trip to Scotland in search of the Loch Ness monster as their most memorable celebrity travel moment of the year.

Canadian men chose Leonardo DiCaprio's yacht trip to Ibiza, Spain, as the moment they would most want to recreate.

Canadian women most wished they could recreate Avril Lavigne and Chad Kroeger's trip to Portofino, Italy, where the pair exchanged vows.

Jay-Z and Beyoncé's highly publicized trip to Cuba was the number four most memorable moment of the year.

If Facebook is any indication, many of you are reminiscing about the last 12 months. Not me. I'm all about the future and booze trends that will define 2014.

Gazing into my crystal wine goblet, I see Old World wines solidifying their comeback. I'm talking the juice squeezed out of France, Italy and Spain easing you out of your South American rut.

That's not to say the New World won't see brighter days. Australia will show signs of rejuvenation with smaller wineries from specific regions making their personalities known.

Whites will gain ground from reds, while red blends will continue to attract the palates of the population.

Wines from a box will be invited to the dinner table, and second-tier grapes like aglianico, albariño and garnacha will be on the tip of your tongue.

The most ground-breaking trend will be flavoured wines, especially those made with, wait for it, chocolate. Chocolate Shop Red ($15.95 - $15.99) and ChocolatRouge Sweet Red ($13.99 - $17.99) have already brought their confectionary flavour flow to store shelves. I guarantee that more will follow in 2014. PRICES REFLECT RANGE ACROSS COUNTRY. SOME PRODUCTS MAY NOT BE AVAILABLE IN ALL PROVINCES.

Meet the star of the 2014 foodie scene

Predictions. Experts have checked the old crystal ball and report that the veggie of the year will be — wait for it — cauliflower

ROSE REISMAN
For more, visit rosereisman.com or follow her on twitter @rosereisman

Cauliflower is the new kale, salt is the new pepper and doughnuts and burgers are going gangbusters — at least, that's what food-trend watchers are predicting for 2014.

"I would say that cauliflower is the new kale and will definitely surpass kale this year," says Christine Couvelier, executive chef and global culinary trendologist. Cauliflower can be mashed, grilled, broiled or cut in steaks and barbecued, served on its own or in salad or tossed with herbs and oils.

Here, it's teamed with edamame to add more nutrients and flavour to regular mashed potatoes. Roasting the vegetables brings out a more intense flavour than boiling, as does the addition of sweet caramelized onions.

This Roasted Potato Cauliflower and Edamame Mash serves 8. MIKE MCCOLL, FROM THE BEST OF ROSE REISMAN (WHITECAP BOOKS)

Ingredients

- 1 head roasted garlic
- 1 1/2 lb Yukon Gold potatoes cut into wedges, unpeeled
- 1 lb raw cauliflower, broken into pieces
- 2 cups diced onions
- 2 tsp vegetable oil
- 1 tbsp brown sugar
- 1 tbsp olive oil
- 1 tbsp sesame oil
- 1/4 cup 2% milk
- 3/4 cup frozen shelled edamame, blanched
- pinch of salt and pepper

1. Preheat oven to 400 F. Line a baking sheet with foil sprayed with vegetable oil. Cut the top off the garlic head and wrap with foil and place on the baking sheet along with the potato and cauliflower. Spray the vegetables with vegetable oil. Roast for 30 minutes or just until tender, turning occasionally. Squeeze out the cloves of garlic.

2. Meanwhile, add onions to a skillet along with the vegetable oil and sauté on medium heat for 10 minutes just until tender. Add the brown sugar and sauté for another 5 minutes.

3. Mash potato wedges with skin in a large bowl. Place the cauliflower in a food processor along with the olive oil, sesame oil and milk and purée. Add to the mashed potatoes along with the onions, garlic cloves and edamame. Add the salt and pepper. THE BEST OF ROSE REISMAN (WHITECAP BOOKS) BY ROSE REISMAN/ FILES FROM THE CANADIAN PRESS

Cauliflower 'couscous' in three steps

This recipe serves four. THE CANADIAN PRESS

1. Finely chop half chili; set aside. Thinly slice remaining half; set aside for garnish.

2. Place cauliflower in food processor and pulse until size of grains of couscous.

3. In bowl, combine garlic, olive oil, vinegar, curry, reserved chopped chili, salt and pepper. Stir. Add cauliflower "couscous" and toss to coat. Add apple, green onions, almonds, raisins and mint. Toss to combine. Garnish with sliced chili.

Ingredients

- 1 fresh red finger chili
- 1 head cauliflower, cut into florets
- 1 small garlic clove, minced
- 75 ml (1/3 cup) olive oil
- 30 to 45 ml (2 to 3 tbsp) apple cider vinegar
- 5 ml (1 tsp) curry powder
- Salt and freshly ground pepper, to taste
- 1 Granny Smith apple, diced
- 2 green onions, sliced
- 50 ml (1/4 cup) toasted slivered almonds
- 50 ml (1/4 cup) raisins
- 75 ml (1/3 cup) chopped mint

Canada cuts through Swiss to get to semis

World juniors. Canucks move on to face Finland

Anthony Mantha has Canada a win away from reaching the final at the world junior hockey championship.

Mantha got the game-winner on a penalty shot while defenceman Griffin Reinhart added a goal and an assist as Canada beat Switzerland 4-1 on Thursday to reach the semi-final round.

The Canadians will face Finland, which rallied for a 5-3 quarter-final win over the Czech Republic on Saturday at Malmo Arena.

Quarter-final round

Canada	Switzerland

"They're a good team — we saw that in the exhibition game," said Reinhart, whose team dominated the final two periods of a pre-tournament game against the Finns on Dec. 20. "Every team now is going to be a hard game.

"It'll take a lot of discipline and you've got to stick to your systems."

Forward Curtis Lazar and defenceman Derrick Pouliot also scored for Canada, which had only one Mathew Dumba goal from its back end in four previous tournament games.

The Finns promise to give Canada a similar test to the Swiss, with the accent on team play and defence. But Finland has some dangerous shooters led by ace playmaker Teuvo Teravainen.

"It's going to be an intense game and there's nothing more to it," said Lazar, who has scored in three straight games. "We're both trying to get into the final but we have to take it a step at a time and keep playing our Canadian brand of hockey.

"We played them in pre-competition, so we'll have to go over video and see if they've changed something up but the main thing is to focus on our own game. There's not much room for error so we have to bring our A-game."

Canada improved to 20-0-0 all-time against the Swiss.

Russia knocks off reigning champs

Russia beat the United States 5-3 in quarter-final play at the world junior hockey championship on Thursday, rallying to take the lead on Nikita Zadorov's two power-play goals.

Zadorov scored on 5-on-3 advantages in a 1:01 span in the second period to give Russia a 4-3 lead. The 6-foot-4 defenceman plays for the London Knights in the Ontario Hockey League.

Russia will face Sweden, a 6-0 winner over Slovakia, in the semifinals Saturday.

Bears sign Cutler to 7-year deal

The Chicago Bears signed Jay Cutler to a seven-year contract Thursday, ending speculation that they might make a change at quarterback after five seasons.

Cutler, 30, acknowledged that his Bears tenure has had its low points, but he clearly thrived under first-year coach Marc Trestman and now has some of the best complements on offence he's had since arriving in Chicago in 2009. Terms of the deal were not disclosed, but it is reportedly worth nearly $18 million per year over the first three years and includes at least $50 million guaranteed.

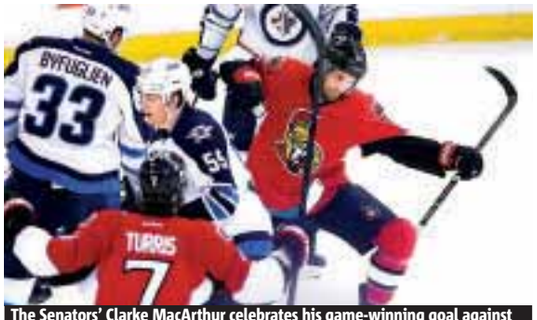
Senators down Jets for 3rd straight win



The Senators' Clarke MacArthur celebrates his game-winning goal against the Jets in Ottawa on Thursday. SEAN KILPATRICK/THE CANADIAN PRESS

Mike Zibanejad had a goal and an assist Thursday and Clarke MacArthur scored the winning goal midway through the third period as the Ottawa Senators beat the visiting Winnipeg Jets 4-3 on Thursday.

Kyle Turris stole the puck and fed MacArthur who then scored and helped the Senators win for the third straight time. They had not won back-to-back games in nearly seven weeks prior to the second win of their current streak.

Milan Michalek and Zack Smith also scored for the Senators (18-18-7), who have four wins in their past five games.

On Thursday

Senators	Jets

Dustin Byfuglien, Evander Kane and Olli Jokinen scored for the Jets (19-19-5) while Al Montoya made 25 saves.

Seconds after Smith gave the Senators a 3-2 lead on a deflection off a Marc Methot point shot at 6:42 of the third period, Craig Anderson maintained it with a glove save on Mark Scheifele who was alone in the slot to collect a rebound.

Anderson can include that among his 32 saves in the game, but he would also be the first to give thanks to his goalposts who were there to bail him out three times, including once earlier in the third period when the game was still tied.

Big chill could make for frozen wild-card game

NFL. Packers host 49ers at Lambeau Field with mercury expected to drop to single digits in Fahrenheit

A Packers fan wears a frozen Lambeau Field hat. GETTY IMAGES FILE

Cold hands and a hard football make for tough catches on chilly winter afternoons at Lambeau Field.

But the arctic front expected to push through Wisconsin in time for this weekend's NFC wild-card game promises to bring conditions considered frigid even for the famous home of the "frozen tundra."

Temperatures will be in the single digits (Fahrenheit) and dropping when the San Francisco 49ers and Green Bay Packers kick off Sunday afternoon. Maybe the teeth-chattering cold will give the Packers an edge to snap a three-game skid against San Francisco.

"It stings a little bit more outside," cornerback Tramon Williams said Thursday about ball drills. Wearing a stocking cap, wind pants and snow boots, Williams looked as if he was getting ready to join a sub-zero tailgate.

"Can't dodge it, man," he said with a laugh. "Can't dodge it at all. But, yeah, it's going to be a cold one, one of those rare ones."

The coldest game on record is the 1967 championship game, known as the "Ice Bowl" won by the Packers 21-17 over the Dallas Cowboys at Lambeau on New Year's Eve. The temperature dipped to -13 F, and the wind chill that day made it feel like -48 F. THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Five ways the Raptors can stay hot

The Toronto Raptors find themselves at .500 after 30 games of a season for the first time since 2010 — and are one of just four Eastern Conference teams at that level or better. How did it happen? Where do they go from here? Here are five things to think about.

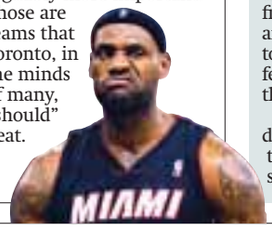
TORSTAR NEWS SERVICE

Defined roles

Coach Dwane Casey struggled early in the season to find the right group of players who could consistently fill roles and produce.

Now? With the arrival of a veteran package in the Rudy Gay trade, he has settled on a nine-man rotation — starters Kyle Lowry, DeMar DeRozan, Terrence Ross, Amir Johnson and Jonas Valanciunas, and backups Greivis Vasquez, John Salmons, Patrick Patterson and Tyler Hansbrough — that is finally getting wins.

Tough road ahead



While the Raptors have been one of the league's best road teams so far — one of only three Eastern Conference teams with a winning road record — they face significant road games in the next month that will be telling. There are away games against Miami and Indiana in the next week that will be difficult, but road dates at Washington, Boston, Charlotte and Philadelphia are arguably more important. Those are teams that Toronto, in the minds of many, "should" beat.

True teamwork

There is no doubt that Rudy Gay is a talented NBA player, but this is a league of fit — and the fit just didn't work at the end of his Toronto tenure.

Without him in the lineup, the Raptors are more freely moving the ball, they are passing up good shots to get better ones, and the feeling of camaraderie on the court is palpable.

"Everything everyone's doing out there is what they know how to do ..." said Lowry.

The kids are all right

The production from second-year players Valanciunas and Ross in this torrid streak cannot be understated.

Valanciunas has been rock steady defensively, not needing any help against some of the top centres in the East, and that has allowed his teammates to worry primarily about their men rather than having to help a youngster out.

Ross has been a revelation, showing Casey a more consistent effort in the past two and a half weeks.

The closers

It's known as "winning time" — those crucial few minutes near the end of close games.

For the longest time, the Raptors seemed to do just enough to lose rather than just enough to win.

No more.

In nine of their last 12 games, they have outscored the opposition in the final quarter.

Casey named coach of the month in the East

Toronto Raptors head coach Dwane Casey was named NBA Eastern Conference coach of the month Thursday. Casey guided the Raptors to an 8-6 record in December, including road wins over the Mavericks and Thunder.

Jeff Hornacek of the Suns was named Western Conference coach of the month. THE CANADIAN PRESS

Cavs' Irving out with bruised knee

Kyrie Irving wanted to play in all 82 games this season. Now the Cleveland Cavaliers hope he will only miss one.

The All-Star point guard sat out for the first game of the season Thursday night, missing the Cavaliers' game against Orlando because of a bruised left knee.

Horoscopes

♈ Aries
March 21 - April 20
No matter how outrageous your ideas may seem to some, you must trust your instincts and follow up on them. Allow your inner voice to guide you and don't be surprised when it all works out perfectly.

♉ Taurus
April 21 - May 21
The planets will present a solution to a problem you thought was here to stay. You should know that everything worth knowing is revealed over time, so be patient.

♊ Gemini
May 22 - June 21
It seems you have been talking at cross purposes with a loved one and that is why you have not been getting along. It is time to sit down and be honest with one another. Yes, of course you can be friends again.

♋ Cancer
June 22 - July 23
Your mind is extraordinarily active at the moment and that's good, but make sure you write down any insights you have, otherwise you may forget them by the end of the day.

♌ Leo
July 24 - Aug. 23
Do something creative today. The current cosmic climate makes it easy for you to give form to your ideas. It also makes it easy for you to impress important people.

♍ Virgo
Aug. 24 - Sept. 23
Something that made no sense before will make perfect sense today. Most likely the thing itself has not changed but the way you look at it has. Next time, try listening to what friends try to tell you.

♎ Libra
Sept. 24 - Oct. 23
Even if you are one of those rare Librans who prefers to keep thoughts private, you will have plenty to say today. The only danger is you may reveal too much valuable information.

♏ Scorpio
Oct. 24 - Nov. 22
News you have been waiting for will arrive today and put an end to a worrying phase. Whether the news is good or bad is unimportant. What matters is that at last you know where you stand.

♐ Sagittarius
Nov. 23 - Dec. 21
Whatever you decide over the next two or three days will have a major effect on your future, so think ahead and make sure you are embarking on a course that is right for you. Don't listen to others, listen to yourself.

♑ Capricorn
Dec. 22 - Jan. 20
Try not to live in the past or lament your mistakes, because what happens next will make up for what you appear to have lost. Resolve to always look forward and never look back.

♒ Aquarius
Jan. 21 - Feb. 19
You appear to believe that the whole wide world is against you. Stop the foolish imaginings and look on the bright side for a change. Life is what you choose to make of it.

♓ Pisces
Feb. 20 - March 20
Whatever your special talent is, put it to good use. If a chance arises in your work or career, grab it with both hands and don't worry that you may not be up to the task. You'll ace it.
